To view the Posse Summit town hall event in its entirety, please visit [link].

Frank Sesno ended the town hall with a message of change. Most believe that colleges and the K-12 school system should play a significant role in creating a workforce that is ready to succeed in today's economy. Through the retreats, students identified pressing issues in the U.S. identified by students during the retreats: immigration, education, health care, and inequality. Secretary Duncan shared his own concerns and the importance of addressing these issues.

The result of the town hall was a dynamic conversation worthy of the nation's attention. The weekend concluded with a press conference sponsored by Deloitte, which was held at Deloitte University in Westlake, Texas.

---

Education

- 76.0% of PPR respondents believe that the U.S. health care system should be reformed.
- 73.9% of PPR respondents believe that the U.S. public education system should be reformed.

Politics - Public Safety

- 66.1% of PPR respondents believe that immigration policy should be reformed.
- 48.5% of PPR respondents believe that gun control policy should be reformed.

Health Care

- 76.0% of PPR respondents believe that the U.S. health care system should be reformed.

Inequality

- 68.0% of PPR respondents believe that income inequality should be addressed.

---

PPR Respondents: The State of Our Union 2019

- 95.5% of PPR respondents believe that the U.S. health care system should be reformed.
- 93.2% of PPR respondents believe that the U.S. public education system should be reformed.
- 88.1% of PPR respondents believe that immigration policy should be reformed.
- 86.4% of PPR respondents believe that gun control policy should be reformed.
- 84.0% of PPR respondents believe that income inequality should be addressed.